

Space Shuttle

Colorano "Silk" Cachet

SPACE SHUTTLE ENTERPRISE - 747

February 12th — The Enterprise and its 747 mate were taken to the Weight and Balance Hangar at the Dryden Flight Research Center, Edwards AFB. Engineers had to raise the nose gear of the 747 in order for the tail section of the Enterprise to clear the upper hangar for the crucial vibration tests. Several Taxi runs will follow should the tests be successful.