

APOLLO 15 COMMANDER SCOTT AT ROVER ON EDGE OF HADLEY RILLE.

NATIONAL AERONAUTICS AND SPACE ADMINISTRATION

APOLLO 15 EVA PHOTO—Astronaut David R. Scott, commander, performs a task at the Lunar Roving Vehicle parked on the edge of Hadley Rille during the first Apollo 15 lunar surface extravehicular activity (EVA-1). This photograph was taken by Astronaut James B. Irwin, lunar module pilot, from the flank of St. George Crater. The view is looking north along the rille.
